died in the Memorial Hospital, on Sunday, of poison.

Blanchard boarded with Mrs. Dickerson, on Hill street, and went to Newark several days ago. On his return he complained of illness and on Thursday was sent to the hospital. There the diagnosis of poison was made and County Physician Clark took his ante-mortem statement.

Blanchard said that he had spent several hours in the company of an old sweetheart and drank come beer, and became Ill.

The authorities are now looking for the woman, as the autopsy revealed the presence of irritating poison.

of the Chicago Democratic Platform League of Schenectady: "It is a good, strong arraignment of Republican misdeeds in this State. I should judge by the attitude taken by Senator Hill in the Journal's interview that he does not propose to make an attempt to have the party repudlate and abandon the Chicago platform. If this proves true victory is sure. If the State convention will indorse the 1896 platform and make a strong fight on State Issues it will be an avalanche and it will be the Republicans who will be buried."
